

If you are a Police Chief, maybe you have many of the same problems as our friend above! That's why we maybe need to talk!

You may be the exception, but the most common concern I hear is too much crime and too little resources (both people and equipment). There all kinds of solutions, but the BEST solution is to get the business and residential community involved in working together!

The City of Birmingham has taken the first steps in recovering and rebuilding the Woodlawn neighborhood through a program known as the Community Policing and Revitalization or C.P.R program. We are proud to be a part of that program and we have taken the concept a step further with an all inclusive program known as Super-City.

Super-City involves and coordinates all city resources into a combined joint effort with the community. Your fire department will be the leader in this effort as they have potential grant money available which can also be used to benefit law enforcement. Problem.crd

You can learn more about what are presenting to your Mayor and your Fire Chief at www.info4u.us/safecity. In essence, a device known as a Premise Notification Accelerator (PNA) is used as a part of the Super-City program.

A variation of the PNR can also be used to detect and report burglary or with a wireless call button, to instantly report robbery in progress. We even have a portable model for use by your investigations team for surveillance use. You can learn more about how these devices are used at the web site referenced about,

You can help your SRO's by utilizing this technology as well and the merchant community will benefit from your improved response time from an average of ten minutes to less than TWO! This is accomplished by supplementing the current alarm reporting process. We can explain more at your convenience.

For now, our objective is to make you aware of what is happening, why it is happening, and your department and the entire community can benefit by your participation. This will involve some new ways of doing things, based on experience we have gained by work with other cities.

The fundamental element of this system is community participation, quicker response to emergencies, and getting maximum potential from your available resources. To set an appointment at your convenience, please call us at 205.854.2611. You'll be glad you did!
